

M. Susan Miller
Senior Associate

M. Susan Miller, Director of Cross Cultural & International Business Development, has more than 30 years in higher education with emphasis on International Program Development and Implementation. Specifically, Ms. Miller has implemented programs, such as U.S. State Department-sponsored Humphrey Fellow and Fulbright Scholar programs while at the University of California, Santa Cruz, as well as designed and implemented successful professional development programs for international corporations, such as Oracle Japan, NTT DoCoMo, Korea Telecom, and NEC Soft.

Ms. Miller's experience includes 17 years at the Director level in Higher Education International Programs at the University of California campuses in Santa Cruz and Davis. She has broad reaching experience focused on global marketing and management, business administration, public administration, and entrepreneurship. Ms. Miller has dedicated her career to the advancement and education of students and professionals from every continent except Antarctica.

Ms Miller's achievements highlight the development of a custom program for INTEL Corporation employees that was offered onsite through the University of California, Davis. Her skill set includes: curriculum and course development, strategic planning, staff management and team leadership, and the development of international marketing plans.

Born in Ohio, Ms. Miller attended The Ohio State University and Indiana University. She completed both her Bachelor and Master degree with High Honors from Ohio University, majoring in Russian Language and Literature with a Minor in Portuguese at the undergraduate level and in Linguistics and Teaching English as a Foreign Language at the Graduate Level.